

6 Ross Drive Castlemaine VIC

4 2 4

Some properties ask nothing of you the moment you arrive, where the driveway opens onto something already settled, already generous, already quietly wonderful. This home is one of those. Sitting on 4.12 acres (approx) just four minutes from the centre of Castlemaine, it offers the kind of life that is rarely found so close to town: a proper garden to lose yourself in, a paddock with room for a horse, a dam catching the light in the afternoon, and a home large enough for everyone to find their own corner.

The rendered brick house, 220 square metres (approx) of it, faces north, the way country homes should, with the kitchen, dining and living all drinking in the solar north-facing aspect from morning through to the long golden hours of the afternoon. Timber floors run underfoot.
